HUNDREDS ASK TO GO TO MORGAN FUNERAL

Applicants Nearly Overwhelm Officials of Church Where Services Are Scheduled.

NEW YORK, April 6 .- So many letters requesting cards of admission to the funeral, of J. Pierpont Morgan overwhelmed the Rev. Dr. Kar! Reiland, rector of St. George's Church, that his secretary had not succeeded in getting through them late today. Dr. Reiland says the capacity of the church is 2,000, and that after tickets have been issued to the family, to the

have been issued to the family, to the Morgan firm and to the many persons in the financial and philanthropic world the remainder will be small. They will be distributed upon application to the rector of St. George's, in 200 East Sixteenth street.

A committee of vestrymen is engaged in making preparations for the funeral on April 14. Seth Low. William Edmond Curtis, and John Reichert are on the committee. They say it is the wish of the Morgan family to have an unpretentious service withhave an unpretentious service with-out any elaborate musical program or Thee bishops have been invited to of Three bishops have been invited to of-ficiate—David H. Greer, of New York; Chaincey B. Brewster, of Connecticut, and William Lawrence, of Massachu-setts. The name of only one pallbearer has been given out. He is George Sulli-van Bowdoin, a life-long frend of the financier and a member of J. P. Morgan financier and a member of J. P. Morgan & Co.

When Morgan's body arrives on the steaner France, which sailed from Havre yesterday and is due to dock Friday, it will be carried to the banker's home. 219 Madison avenue. From there it will be taken under police escort to St. George's for the funeral at 10 a. m., Monday, April 14.

After the ceremony a special train will carr ythe body, attended by relatives and close friends, to Hartford, Conn., where burial will take place in the family plot in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan and her daughter, Miss Anne Morgan, went to Highland Falls yesterday to isolate themselves pending the arrival of Morgan's body from Havre. They went in an automobile from New York and will remain in the Morgan country house, Cragston.

Scientists Talk.

Henry Talbott and Fritz Johansen were the speakers at the filth regular peeting of the Biological Society of Washington at the Cosmos Club last night. The former spoke on "A Commercial Aspect of Paleontology," and the latter told of the results of the Denmark Expedition in Northeast Greenland, 1906-8.

"He Calmed World," Is Canon's Tribute to Late J. P. Morgan

By the Right Rev. Sir William Boyd-Carpenter, now Canon of Westminster.

> IN MEMORIAM. 1. Pierpont Morgan.

THE COMMODORE HAS COME TO PORT And is he dead? He was a living

When markets reeled and cities were aquake.

Through the long night, with ready brain awake. He tolled and calmed the world that anxious hour, Like strong tower, square to all winds, he stood, Silent but in the utterance of truth.

Still gifted with the single heart of youth,

His credit grew, made strong in rectitude. Wisdom he joined to right. With artless skill

To evil minds he was enigma still. Silence the snarling dogs of petty spite-

The empty envies of the baser sort Honor the man who ruled by royal flags, the Commodore has come to port!

Chinese Declares His Nation Ripe for Mission

That there are thousands of Chinese students studying in the United States who will never go back to the ancient traditions and customs of China, but who will return to China and using the United States as a model, making that country more progressive, was the statement by T. T. Wong, who address the Foreign Missionary Seminary in Takoma Park yesterday, Mr. Wong stated that now was the time for the United States to send missionaries to China because the people were ready for Christianity.
